

82D CONGRESS
1ST SESSION

S. RES. 227

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

OCTOBER 19 (legislative day, OCTOBER 1), 1951

Mr. KNOWLAND (for himself, Mr. NIXON, Mr. BREWSTER, Mr. BRIDGES, Mr. CARLSON, Mr. HENDRICKSON, Mr. IVES, Mr. MONRONEY, Mr. O'CONOR, Mr. SMATHERS, Mr. WILEY, and Mr. BENNETT) submitted the following resolution; which was referred to the Committee on the Judiciary

RESOLUTION

Whereas a large number of refugees from Russia and other countries behind the iron curtain have escaped to Western Europe, anxious to free themselves from Soviet tyranny and constituting a potentiality of valuable citizenry in the free world; and

Whereas escapees from Czechoslovakia presently have been placed at Nuremberg, under the Western German economy which is not adequately equipped to care for these escapees indefinitely; and

Whereas the Czechoslovak escapees from the so-called "Freedom Train", are illustrative of the trust imposed in us and other free peoples by millions still under totalitarian rule; and

Whereas several slave laborers recently escaped from Czech uranium mines, after rebelling against Soviet atom production, and after learning of opportunities in free Europe; and

Whereas a genuine interest in the lives and future welfare of these unfortunate fellow members of the human race has been manifested by the great majority of the citizens of this Republic; and

Whereas free peoples should encourage and promote the preservation and enjoyment of the God-given rights of man to live in freedom from tyranny of the body and spirit, as opposed to those forces which would enslave and suppress those rights; and

Whereas many underpopulated areas of the world which either are benefiting or may benefit in the future from the point 4 program, would benefit from immigration: Now, therefore, be it

12 relation to the foregoing which would assist the Congress in 13 enacting remedial legislation as required, and be of public

16 time to time the results of its study, survey and investigation,
